First organized in 1896 and rooted in the principles of integrity, honor, and devotion to duty, we now number 152 dedicated men and women - the state's seventh largest police department.

The town has a total area of 67.2 square miles, of which, 47.8 square miles of it is land and 19.4 square miles of it is water. In terms of area, Greenwich is twice the size of Manhattan. The town is bordered to the west and north by Westchester County, New York, to the east by the City of Stamford, and to the south by Long Island Sound.

The Greenwich Police Department provides public safety services to a diverse community of over 62,000 residents only 20 miles from NYC. In addition to law enforcement, GPD is the first responder to all medical calls in Greenwich and is at the forefront of meeting the most challenging issues within the Town.

GPD is one of the few municipal police agencies in CT providing full service policing operations, including its own forensics lab, a dedicated community policing team and a marine section with several vessels.
